Violations not corrected

Trevor House red tag gone

by GLORIA DAVIS

The red tag informing the public and past or future tenants of Trevor House, at the intersection of Trevor Rd. and North Ave., that life safety violations had been found on the property by the Lake County Planning and Zoning Dept., has been removed from the outside of the building.

A representative of the zoning department said that the file was still active and that department was not aware of any correction of those violations.

According to that department, the usual procedure is for an inspection team to return to examine red tagged property to see if the violations have been corrected before the tag is removed. The planning department said that that procedure had not taken place as of press time.

Former tenants, those who first complained to the county and later to the News, have all been either evicted or are under eviction proceedings.

These tenants told the newspaper that none of the electrical and plumbing violations had been corrected.

According to Michael Erde, Chicago attorney representing the Antioch Commercial Co., owners of Trevor House, permits had been taken out to have the work done a week before the tag disappeared.

Erde claimed that he did not know who removed the tag, adding that it was probably the former tenants whom he has accused of all kinds of vandalism to the property, including some that caused the red tagging.

The apartments are now being shown and the former tenants are worried that anyone from out of the area that isn't aware of the tagging might rent one of the apartments without knowing the problems of the building.

Former tenants added that they fought to have the building tagged, negating any reason that they might be instrumental in its removal.

"Only the lessors would benefit from its removal," said former tenant Dulcie Kalk.

Back in July, all the tenants of Trevor House and some from Cardiff House, North Ave., and 310 Hwy. 83, also owned by Antioch Commercial, signed a letter sent to Erde asking for the removal of the manager of those rental units, Heide Korstanje.

The letter accused her of ignoring their repeated complaints of the safety violations at Trevor House, of causing trouble between the tenants of all three buildings, and of threatening them if they continued complaining.

Korstanje asked us to delete her name from previous articles because of a threat to her personal safety.

Rich Henderson, Sharon Ludford, Mr. and Mrs. James Warner, and Dulcie Kalk, former tenants, claim that the life threat was a fictitious one and that Korstanje wanted her name kept out of the paper because she was holding down three jobs and collecting public aid.

Korstanje claims she collects public aid, has already been investigated by them because of the tenants.

She added that the only job she has is with Antioch Commercial which offsets her rent.

The News files have Korstanje listed as Heidi Hillesheim, the office manager of B and H Welding, Antioch, with bills for that company to be sent to her home. This she denies.

Erde admits she is employed as a manager for Antioch Commercial.

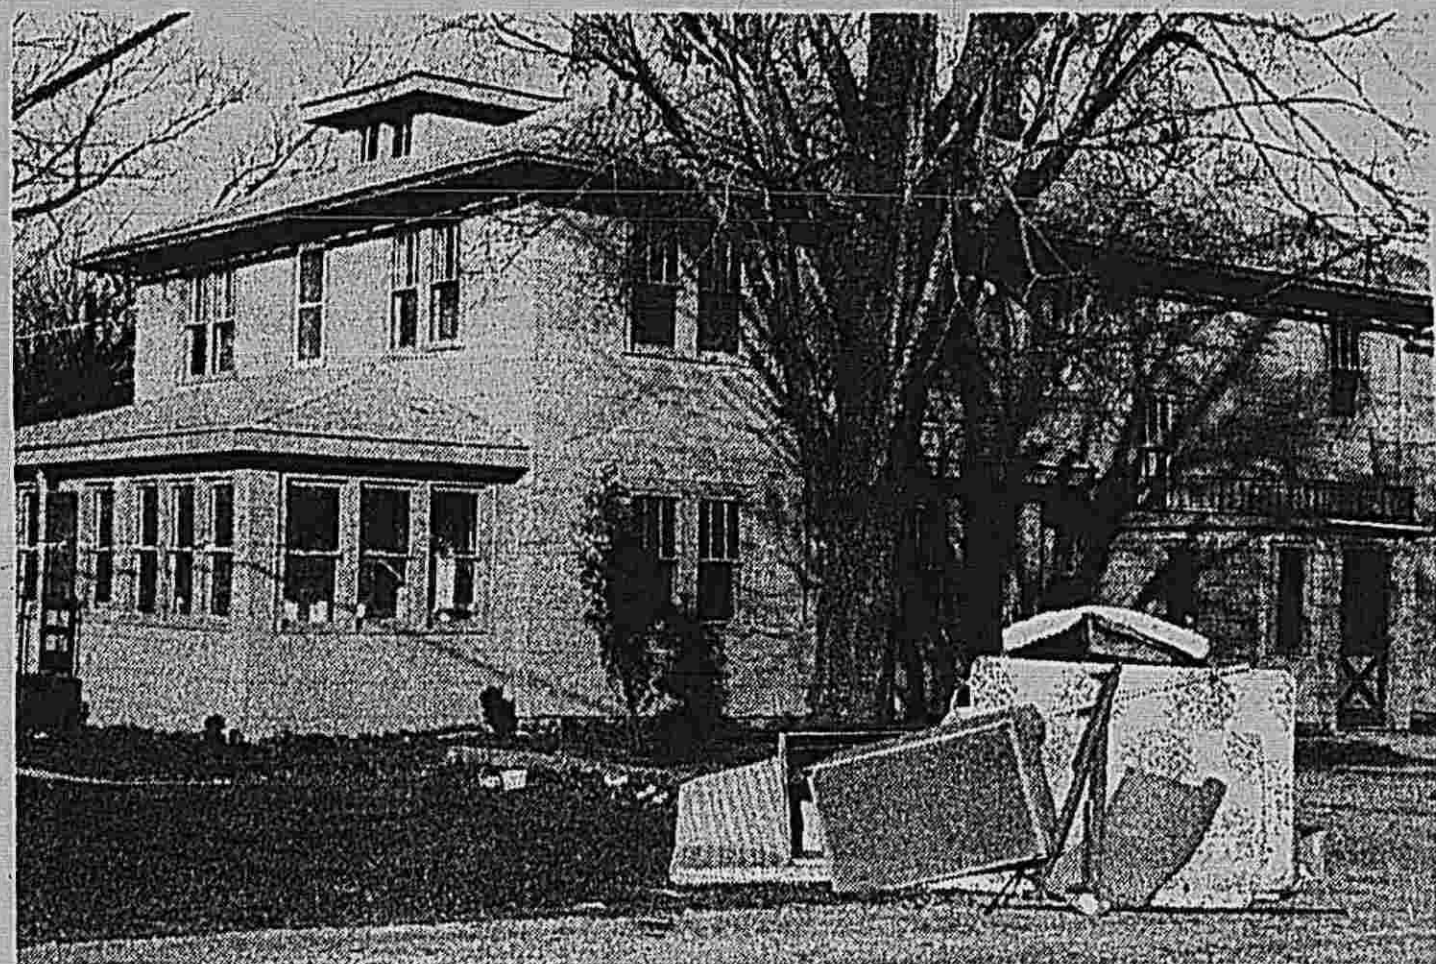

Ludford and Henderson, former tenants of Cardiff House also claim that Korstanje sometimes works in a bar during the evening.

Erde also claims that rent checks from some of his rental properties have mysteriously disappeared within the last couple of weeks.

Although the evicted tenants claim to have gone on a rent strike last summer to force Erde to repair the property and hopefully get rid of Korstanje, a Lake County judge has upheld Erde's eviction request on the grounds that back rent was due.

SIGNS OF EVICTION

Dist. 34 nixes tax

by GLORIA DAVIS

After seating the newly elected member of the Antioch Grade School Dist. 34, Board, and electing Garnet Cook, president, Gail Heath vice-president, Jimmy Quedenfeld, secretary and Supt. Don Skidmore, secretary designate, the board proceeded to handle four main points of business, on Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Skidmore told the board that the school district would not at the present time amend the approved budget and exercise the latest law allowing it to add a two-cent per $100 of assessed valuation tax to the budget, even though the special education unit could use the additional funds.

Skidmore told the board that the new tutoring program was being implemented in all the district's schools. This tutoring is meant for children whose reading disabilities do not require special education classes, but call for extra help.

A total of four experienced teachers have been hired. Two of these teachers have master's degrees in learning disabilities and reading.

Antioch Grade School and W. C. Petty will be using one tutor each and Oakland is using two.

The Illinois State Board of Education, in an attempt to raise the state's education level, was considering two access avenues to this end.

The first, the lengthening of the school year, was tossed out because people are too used to a nine month school year.

The other consideration is being looked at seriously, that of lengthening the school day.

The state board of education's premise is that the academic core, language arts, foreign languages, math, science and social studies, be taught for five hours daily. Time for the rest of the classes will have to be added on to that base.

Skidmore claims that the main thing about that idea that troubles him is the lack of grade differentiation.

"They don't separate the first grade from the 12th grade. I don't think that a first grader has the same stamina, attention span or energy to attend school for as many hours as older children do," he said.

He added that that long of a school day would sometimes be more hours than the average adult work day.

Another important matter considered at the meeting was the complaint of parents concerning problems some of the sixth, seventh and eighth graders are having with their science classes.

At present, science is being taught mainly as a lab class with no definite texts used for test studying.

The students only have the notes they are supposed to be taking from which to study.

The question that has arisen is whether or not the students are presently being graded on science or note taking abilities.

According to Skidmore, the administration is now investigating types of texts that might be fittingly issued and purchased as test study guides.

Board okay ACHS tax down, levy up

The Antioch High School Board has approved a 1983 levy of $2,638,410. That amount is $124,410 over last year's levy, showing approximately a five percent levy increase.

All but $20,000 of that increase is the cost of the removal of asbestos from the school premises, as mandated by law.

But the slight levy raise will not be reflected in a tax raise since the final bond and interest payments will be made Dec. 1.

The five incumbent board members, all reelected in the school board election of Nov. 8, were sworn in at the regular meeting of the board on Tuesday, Nov. 15.

Those presently sitting on the board include, President Robert Lindblad, Tony Starcevic and Frank Walsh, Jr., who were seated for four years.

Charles Forster and Bette Meyer were again seated for two year terms. Julie Portalski was elected to serve as board secretary.

The regular board meetings will be held on the third Thursday of each month, the meetings set to start at 7:30 p.m.

Senior Vikes lose

The Antioch Vikings, by virtue of the seniors' 8 to 0 win over Fox Lake on Nov. 9, hosted the junior and senior championship games of the Junior Tackle Football League of Northern Illinois on Sunday, Nov. 13.

The combatants for the junior championship game was Winnetka versus Mundelein.

Mundelein played well but lost to a superior Winnetka junior team, 14 to 0.

The senior championship game pitted Antioch's Vikings against Winnetka. Winnetka scored three times in the first half and led 18 to 0.

They added a safety in the second half to close out the scoring with a 20 to 0 shut out.

Winnetka had field position for the whole game. An interception, a blocked punt, and a fumbled opening game kick-off led to Antioch's demise, coupled with a hard rushing Winnetka defense.

The Vikings have no reason to hang their heads they and the juniors added a form of excitement to the community.

The boys did themselves proud. Leading the Vikings throughout the playoffs was the defensive play of Troy Schroeder, David Wick, Larry Miller, John Miller, Mark Yukna and Dan Warren.

Leading the offense was running backs Bundon Hannigan and Jim Keim, quarterback Chris Polark, linemen, Jeremy Johnson, Brian Buszta, Bill Letky and Brad Mandernak.

From the locker room we hear the eternal Cub cry "Wait til next year."

The Antioch Vikings would like to thank the cheerleaders who lived and died with us during the season. Also the Antioch Community High School for allowing the Vikings the use of the facilities — thanks to Mr. Blecke, Mr. Learr, Mr. Wierschem for their kind and considerate support.

Also Head Coach Steve Wapon and his staff, and, last but not least, the parents of the Vikings, including the juniors, seniors, and featherweights.

Jaycees plan benefit

The Antioch Jaycees are running two projects to benefit Camp New Hope, the Illinois Jaycees summer camp for disabled children. The first of these projects is a pancake breakfast with Santa Claus.

The breakfast will be on Sunday, Dec. 11, from 7 a.m. to 1 p.m., at the Windjammer Restaurant.

The Windjammer is located two miles west of Rte. 59 on Rte. 173. Donations for the all you can eat breakfast is $2.75 for adults and $1.75 for children under 12.

Money raised by the pancake breakfast will be used to send one or more young people to Camp New Hope next summer. Camp tuition is $300 per camper.

The second project is Rose Day. Antioch Jaycees will be selling tickets good for one dozen roses delivered to the person of your choice. The price of the roses is $12.

The Jaycees will deliver the roses on Saturday, Dec. 17. Tickets can be purchased from local Jaycees and Jaycettes, from Kathy Kennedy at the First Bank of Antioch, or Ed Bakshsis at E.J.'s Camera.

All profits from Rose Day will go directly to Camp New Hope to defray operating expenses of the camp not covered by tuition.

An average dinner eaten by King Louis XIV of France: four plates of soup, a whole pheasant, a whole partridge, two slices of ham, a salad, mutton with garlic, pastry, fruit and hardboiled eggs.

Stage review

'Heaven Can Wait' is fantasy freak must

by JEAN RYBICKI

"Heaven Can Wait," PM&L's latest offering that opened Friday, Nov. 18, is a well-cast fantasy, ably directed by PM&L veteran Lou Jones.

Larry Bersie gave a great performance as Joe Pendelton, the dead pugilist who returns in someone else's body.

Lorrie Ferguson was great as the cool and calculating Julia, convincing me of the foolhardiness of accepting and refreshments from her hands.

Sander Sundberg's Mr. Jordan is the lead example of good casting, as was the part of Max Levene, played by Frank DiMarco.

I got the feeling that DiMarco must have himself been a fight manager in another life, his portrayal was so realistic.

And Gerry Mandel's rendition of Inspector Williams might qualify him as Peter Seller's replacement in the Inspector Clouseau series.

Plaudits also are due Mickey Mandel, Ricky Apostle and Christina Lindberg in their respective roles.

So if your into fantasies, plan to attend this local version of an often done Henry Segall comedy set to run for the next two Fridays and Saturdays at the little theater on Main St. in Antioch.

Congrats to Kurt Kapischke who is playing on the Augustana College Vikings winning team for the third year in a row. He has been named to the first team all-conference honor squad for the 1983 season.

If you want to see a familiar sight on television, tune into WMAQ, channel five, at 10 a.m., on Sunday, Nov. 27 to the NBC special, "I Want To Be Somebody."

The film was conceived and directed by Hooper White, who is on the board of Allendale School in Lake Villa. The special will feature Eddie Hubbard as the interviewer, three of Allendale's key staff and one or two Allendale students.

Apologies to Guy Abderholden. Last week I said that he had been chosen to be a member of Alpha Epsilon Delta. His Father, Dr. Ed Abderholden, called to tell me that Guy really doesn't like fraternities and he hopes none of his friends would think he would join one.

It seems that Alpha Epsilon Delta is merely an honor frat and Guy simply received that honor because of his academic achievements.

Guess who's coming back to town during the work day. Rumor has it we'll be seeing Laddie Korecek's friendly face up and down Antioch's downtown streets again soon.

Its hard to believe that Christmas is as close as it is. I see that some of the downtown store windows are already beginning to look a lot like-- Congrats to the Antioch Reporter's editor, Diana Kuyper, who just presented her husband Jerry with a bouncing baby girl named Cloence. What an unusual name!

What's this I hear about Antioch soon to have a grandpa for a mayor! I also hear that our erstwhile leader woke-up from a nap on the livingroom couch one afternoon to find himself and the couch covered with a drop cloth.

That ambitious Joan is repainting the whole house!

Good news for those that are adverse to Illinois teens' across the border drinking. Tom Furlan tells us that word in the Kenosha County Tavern League is that it is possible that all the pressure being put on Wisconsin legislators from both sides of the border might succeed in bringing the reciprocity law back up in front of the legislators. Hurray!!!

Women to meet

St. Peter's Women's Club will meet on Tuesday, Dec. 6, at 7:30 p.m. in Father Frawley Hall. Ralph E. Brooke, choir director at Antioch Community High School will present a program featuring the high school's Madrigals Singers.

A Christmas party and refreshments will complete the evening. Mike Gross is program chairman. Hostesses for the evening are Betty Davis, Florence Eckert, Clare Kadera, Margaret McKinney, and Barbara Zuponek.

In four varsity appearances Adams has impressed the DePauw coaching staff with his skills as a quarterback.

In varsity competition Adams has completed 12 of 26 passes for 94 yards and one touchdown. His first collegiate touchdown pass came on a 14-yard strike against Kenyon College.

DePauw has a 5-3 record for the season while riding a 17-home game winning streak.

The Tigers have not lost at Blackstock Stadium since Nov. 19, 1979.

Adams is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Adams, 591 Longview Dr., Antioch.

Red Tag

Ludford and Kalk produced receipts showing that their rent was paid in full up until last summer when the rent strike began.

Erde has claimed all of these tenants were back in their rent when the strike began.

Both Korstanje and Erde have accused Henderson, who worked as the Antioch Commercial's maintenance man, not only of improper maintenance work of Trevor House but of sabotaging the property before the county examined it.

Henderson has a letter of reference reportedly from Korstanje, saying, "he is price and time conscious, all his work is guaranteed, he is fast and efficient." Her name is spelled wrong in the signature.

Since the former tenants complained to the county and the newspaper, many apartments in all three buildings are reportedly vacant, the occupants having been evicted, the red tag is off of Trevor House but no repairs have been reported to the county.

Erde claims to have evicted these people for being trouble makers and non-payment of their rent. He adds that he already has takers for most of the apartments.

Supposedly Pat Scott is the only tenant remaining in Trevor House. She has stated that all the tenants are lying.

Scott claims to have been threatened by the other tenants because she has stood by Antioch Commercial Co..

They claim she is getting free rent for going along with the lessor. Scott did sign the first letter sent to Erde complaining about the conditions and Korstanje.

Last week Henderson and Ludford offered to pay $500 back rent in front of a Lake County judge and were granted a week's extension before their eviction takes place.

The tenants are now in the process of trying to get action from the Lake County Board concerning their plight.

The first woman dentist in the United States was Lucy Hobbs Taylor, who opened her practice in Cincinnati in 1861. By 1900, nearly 1,000 women had followed her example.

Science Church to give thanks

A special Thanksgiving service, open to the community, will be held on Thursday, Nov. 24, at First Church of Christ, Scientist, Antioch, located at Rte. 173 and Harden St.

The service will begin at 11 a.m. with a hymn, and includes Bible readings reflecting the psalmist's gratitude even in the midst of his turbulent era—"How excellent is thy lovingkindness, O God...the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings. They shall be abundantly satisfied with the fatness of thy house; and thou shalt make them drink of the river of thy pleasures."

During the hour-long service, the readings will explore the scriptural record of God's "lovingkindness," Brief correlative passages from the Christian Science textbook, Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures by Mary Baker Eddy, will also be read, including the following excerpt from the chapter on "Prayer": "God is not moved by the breath of praise to do more than He has already done, nor can the infinite do less than bestow all good, since He is unchanging wisdom and love."

The hymns and readings will also highlight the love and comfort God continually extends to His creation, bringing peace in times of trouble.

Following these readings, the President's Proclamation, and the Lord's Prayer, time will be set aside for expressions of gratitude to God from the congregation. All are welcome at the Thanksgiving service. Child care will be provided for children too young to attend.

Letter To The Editor

THE FOLLOWING IS A LETTER FROM THE WIFE OF THE DISABLED VET IN PREVIOUS NEWS STORIES ABOUT TREVOR HOUSE.

Editor:

I'm writing this letter to open the eyes of everyone in this community. We all need to sit down and go over the way our town (Antioch) is being run and the agencies we have to help people in time of need.

My family is one of many who are soon to be homeless because of eviction.

For over one month we have been fighting to get help and so many of the agencies can't seem to help or just won't.

We need laws to protect the poor from the many slum-lords we have in Antioch at this moment.

Many of the rental buildings are run down or have serious building and health violations that are unchecked because no one wants to be involved for fear of losing the roof over their heads.

We live in one of those homes and are fighting for what we feel is right and fair for all parties concerned.

Just because someone is on public aid or disability doesn't mean they are such.

Most are very proud people who are down on their luck or unemployed because of illness and are doing their best at the time.

We are human beings and don't enjoy being treated like animals.

The time is here for everyone to decide what can be done to help people in need. Would it be too much trouble to have emergency housing or to increase low income housing for families whose income just doesn't meet with the high rents in the area?

Having an emergency housing program would be an asset to our community. People could volunteer their services and businesses, food, etc. to set a place up. I'm sure the people who receive the help would also give help back to other needy people.

We are all God's children and need to show love and concern for others instead of filling our pockets with gold.

Too many people are money hungry and can't see the need of their friends and neighbors around them.
